

IAH Quiz

Each quiz will be worth a .5 (one-half) CEU!

The Indiana Accredited Horticulturist Committee is pleased to provide you an opportunity to earn CEUs (continuing education units) in each issue of the Indiana Nursery and Landscape News.

The IAH quiz offered in each issue can be completed by anyone who is an "Active" (current) IAH (initial or masters).

Each quiz will be worth a .5 (one-half) CEU (continuing education unit) for the completion of the bi-monthly quiz with a pass rate of 80%. Over a 2-year period, you could earn up to 6 CEUs if you take and pass every quiz!

The INLA office will grade the quiz. Questions and answers have been provided by the IAH committee.

Thank you and good luck studying!

The Indiana Accredited Horticulturist Committee

Co-Chairs

- George Brenn, Four Seasons Landscaping Nursery
- Gabriel Gluesenkamp, Designscape Hort Services

Committee Members

- Brian Bunge, Twixwood Nursery
- Wayne Gruber, Niemeyer's Landscape Supply
- Jim Messmer
- Melissa Mravec, Allen Landscape
- Jodie Overmyer, Marshall County Soil and Water

IAH QUIZ: JULY/AUGUST 2022

Due: August 31, 2022

Complete the quiz and email or mail to INLA by the deadline above. Be sure to write your name, IAH number, and contact information on the bottom of the quiz when submitting.

1. The most important component of diagnosing plant health problems is proper identification of the _____.
2. Determining if a problem is normal or _____ must be considered
3. Symptoms are the changes in _____, growth or development of a plant
4. Often, plants respond the same way to _____ problems, and diagnosis based only on 1 or 2 _____ may be inaccurate.
5. Whenever possible, examine the _____ of the affected plant.
6. _____ are evidence of the biologic agent causing damage.
7. Abiotic diseases are caused by _____ agents, such as people
8. Biotic diseases are abnormal conditions of a plant caused by _____
9. Foliar problems rarely result in plant _____.
10. _____ can be caused by rope or twine left on rootballs.

Name: _____

IAH No.: _____

Phone: _____

Email: _____

Send answers to: info@inla1.org -or- mail to INLA, 7915 S. Emerson Ave., #247, Indianapolis, IN 46237